“The Outsiders” Soundtrack

1. “Leathers” by Deftones

Album: Koi No Yokan

“Wear your insides on the outside, show your enemy what you look like”

This is a perfect song to start the soundtrack for “The Outsiders” because both the book and song begin the same. The song begins with soft mellow sounds for about 40 seconds and then the music and lyrics hit hard and heavy. This is like the novel in that it begins with Ponyboy talking about himself and his love of movies, and then all of a sudden he gets jumped by a group of socs.

The song also has a very rebellious and defiant tone, much like the greasers’ attitude towards the socs and the rest of the community.

2. “Rebel Way” by Snoop Lion

Album: Reincarnation

“You can’t run away, you gotta face this. Time is moving fast, can’t dwell on the past.”

3. “Hey Baby” by Stephen Marley

Album: Mind Control

“If you thought that I was lost, I had to bear my cross. Now I’m free from all these chains.”

4. “Road to Zion” by Damian Marley feat. Nas Album: Welcome to Jamrock

“In this world of calamity, dirty looks and grudges and jealousy...”

5. “With a Little Help From My Friends” by The Beatles

Album: Sgt. Pepper’s Lonely Heart’s Club Band

“I get by with a little help from my friends”
